The Carlson Family

After having served as missionaries for 13 years through Youth With a Mission (YWAM), the Carlson family moved to Michigan to raise their young family. Through their international work with YWAM, they have helped build over 5,000 families receive affordable housing. “After years of being in a position to help families get a home; we find ourselves in thier shoes in needing help to get a safe, decent, affordable home for our family.”

Currently, the family is in a rental situation where they are paying over 30% of their income in monthly housing expenses. This family of 5 is active in their church and is actively looking for ways to be more involved in the community.
